

The book cover features a light green, cracked leather-like texture. A central vertical band is a lighter, solid color, containing a large, stylized, brown monogram. Below this band is a horizontal strip with a repeating decorative pattern of small squares. At the bottom, there is a section with a pattern of vertical lines that converge towards the center, creating a perspective effect.

A gaze into the past will recall to the minds of students, faculty members, parents, and many members of the community the memory of a man who has faithfully served as principal, friend, counsellor, and a person to whom we as students could turn for guidance. As a tribute to his memory, the community in due reverence is indebted to the service offered by this man, known to all of us as Mr. Culbertson, and indeed we dedicate our hearts to his remembrance in gratitude for his value to the community in return.
